NUNTIA

Four hundred years of fidelity to its charism and the New Evangelization

LOCAL COMMUNITY OF THE GENERAL CURIA

New Stage

After a few months of “recess,” Nuntia returns to your hands. This newsletter has for a long time informed you about the events of the General Curia. This recess period was due mainly to the preparations before the General Assembly and, afterwards, to the editor’s personal situation of family loss.

It will continue to be issued monthly, gathering the information, which, during the month, is published on www.cmglobal.org. It can be downloaded directly from the website in PDF to be printed for those who prefer to read it on paper.

I appreciate your understanding as we move forward. We hope for reports, photographs, and videos of the activities of the provinces worldwide.

Alaskan Archbishop receives honorary membership with Vincentians

Anchorage Archbishop Roger Schwietz received honorary membership into the Congregation of the Mission formalizing a spiritual friendship that has grown and flourished in the Archdiocese of Anchorage since his arrival in 2001.

A Mass was held at the Co-Cathedral of Our Lady of Guadalupe on formally proclaiming Archbishop Schwietz' membership as an affiliate of the order. Archbishop Schwietz felt deeply honored by this gesture.

"At the Mass when this was announced, so many incredibly nice things were said, like what is said for somebody once they die," he observed. "It was very nice hearing these things while I am still alive."

Archbishop Schwietz told the Catholic Anchor that Father G. Gregory Gay, superior general for the Vincentians, became interested in Alaska when the two met in Rome a few years ago.

"I explained how we needed help, especially with our Hispanic evangelization and outreach," Archbishop Schwietz recounted. "It became very clear that we have a similar approach to ministry. Eventually, he formed a team."

The team now serves at Our Lady of Guadalupe Co-Cathedral in Anchorage, providing pastoral care for the parishioners there, many of them Hispanic.

The Vincentian religious order has now established a long-time commitment of priests in the Anchorage Archdiocese, with Vincentian priest Father Andrew Bellisario serving as pastor of the co-cathedral with fellow Vincentian Father Pedro Delgado serving as parochial vicar. A third priest is expected to join the team soon.

In a letter recommending Archbishop Schwietz as an honorary member of the Vincentians, the Fathers Bellisario and Delgado submitted their assessment of the archbishop.

They affirmed that Archbishop Schwietz "demonstrates a sincere care and affection for the poor and marginalized, for the many immigrants, and for the indigenous peoples of the frontier state of Alaska." They also testified that in Archbishop Schwietz they "see clearly the five virtues of [their] congregation: humility, simplicity, meekness, mortification and zeal."

While this honor is recent, the relationship between the Vincentians and the Archdiocese of Anchorage has developed over nearly two decades. Their women's religious community, the Daughters of Charity, arrived in 1999. Lay chapters of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul also have provided tangible assistance to souls in need at the parish and community level. Over the past two years, missionary priests from the order have begun serving the Archdiocese, particularly focusing on Hispanic outreach.

"We have a huge Hispanic population in the state that is not really being addressed adequately by the church," Archbishop Schwietz observed.

He is concerned because, without finding culturally relevant Catholic parishes, many Hispanics have joined Protestant communities or are not living out their Catholic faith at all.

In response to this, Archbishop Schwietz now requires all Alaska seminarians to learn Spanish. And when the Vincentians arrived in Alaska, he gave them a mandate to not only staff the Co-Cathedral of Our Lady of Guadalupe, but to bring their missionary charism to the community of Hispanics in the area, focusing on outreach, evangelization and service.

Archbishop Schwietz clarifies that his relationship with the Congregation is a different kind of membership from that which he has with his religious community, the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate.

"I do not have any obligations to the Vincentians, but I profit by their spiritual support, and they mine," he said. "I not only have that connection in the present time but I will be remembered in their prayers after I'm gone."

He believes this spiritual affiliation between him and the Vincentians will nurture the connections that have developed between the order and its new mission in Alaska. Archbishop Schwietz said he anticipates that this relationship will spiritually benefit Alaskans for many years.

"It will help foster our cooperative work together," Archbishop Schwietz added. "I have a certain sense that I belong to them." Source: <http://www.catholicanchor.org/alaska-news/archbishop-receives-honorary-affiliation-with-vincentians/>

Fr. Tomaž Mavrič farewells as he moves to Rome

To the people he served and worked with as the former Visitor of Vice-Province St. Cyril and Methodius the election of Fr. Tomaž Mavrič, CM, Superior General of the Congregation of the Mission, 24th successor of St. Vincent, came with both joy and a sense of loss. The following tells the story of their farewells and the celebrations of his time with them. Mercy reminds us that everything we have is a gift. Someone took the initiative in our life; someone has given us a gift (a gift that is to be developed and shared). Mercy reminds us that we are all God's children, sons and daughters of the one God, brothers and sisters to one another. Mercy also reminds us that we will be provided with all that we need in order to live with dignity. We have happiness and joy because we can serve others. Therefore, we must always ask ourselves where we can be of service at the present moment ... not at some future moment, not tomorrow or the day after tomorrow, but right now?

Mercy leads us along the path to heaven. Mercy is our service on behalf of our neighbour. It frees us from sin and enables to be fruitful, to be affective and effective in our love and service.

We are grateful to God for this gift of mercy, for the reality of mercy that is the very heart of Gospel, at the center of Jesus' whole life. Jesus set an example for us and invites us to follow Him. These were the words that Fr. Tomaž Mavrič, CM, Superior General of the Congregation of the Mission, proclaimed to the guests at the House of «God's Gift» during the celebration of the Eucharist. The priests of the Congregation from Odessa, Perechyn, Sniatyn, Storozhinets, Kharkov, from Poland and Belarus, sisters and priests from other congregations in Kiev, friends, and volunteers ... all these members of the Vincentian Family gathered together on the evening of August, 3rd in order to say good-bye to Fr. Tomaž and to express their gratitude to the former Visitor of Vice-Province St. Cyril and Methodius. The Marian Sisters of the Miraculous Medal, as usual, prepared delicious food for the buffet, which took place immediately after the celebration of the Eucharist. At that time, everyone had the opportunity to talk individually with Fr. Tomaž. On Sunday, August 7th, another farewell to the parishioners took place in Kiev, in the church of St. Alexander. Fr. Vitaly Bezshkuryy, the rector at the cathedral had invited Father to take part in that celebration. The celebration of the Eucharist was broadcast throughout the Ukraine ... thanks to Radio Maria those who were unable to be physically present were able to join the community prayer with Fr. Tomaž via radio.

On August 9th, Fr. Tomaz, CM, Superior General, was interviewed on Radio Maria during which time he spoke about the charism of the Congregation, the founder of the Congregation (St. Vincent de Paul) and various way to recognize the face of Christ in the poor who are found in so many different places in our world. Even though Fr. Tomaz is departing for Rome, he will remain with us and will be present in our prayers.

Bishop Leovigildo López

Congregation of the Mission on January 30, 1945 and on July 11th, 1954 was ordained a priest. He studied first in Mexico and then in Spain and England. He was a theology professor at the Diocesan Seminary in the Federal District of Mexico and pastor of the parish in Guadalajara, in Mérida and in Yucatán. He ministered for eight years in the parish of the Recolectión in León and was director of the Internal Seminary (Guatemala) for two years. On October 7th, 1972, he was ordained as bishop of the Diocese of Granada (Nicaragua). On December 5th, 2003, Pope John Paul II accepted his resignation as bishop and since that time Bishop Leovigildo resided at "Villa Leo" in Diriá-Granada.

Members of the Episcopal Conference began to gather together early in morning and at 11:00am the Funeral Liturgy was begun. Cardinal Leopoldo José Brenes, presided and was accompanied by his brother Bishops and by many members of the clergy. In his homily, Bishop Jorge Solórzano, the present bishop of the Diocese of Granada, thanked all those who participated in the Eucharist and highlighted some aspects of Bishop López's personal and ministerial life. He spoke about the bishop's dynamism, generosity and the impact that he had on people's lives. His life was one of service on behalf of others. At the same time, he was firm in his faith and gave witness to the gospel which was the foundation of his activity. Bishop Solórzano went on to state that his love of the priesthood and vocations led him to undertake the construction of the Major Seminary, Saint Peter, Apostle and the Minor Seminary, Saint Vincent de Paul. His love for those in need, especially the elderly, is reflected in the many institutions that he established for the aged and the infirm. Then, at the time of final prayers for the deceased, Cardinal Leopoldo Brenes spoke about the manner in which the Bishop united people together. Throughout his life, as a priest, bishop and then during the time of his illness, the Bishop gave witness as a prayerful son of God.

The celebration of the Eucharist was followed by a procession through the street to the parish church of Saint James, Apostle, where he was buried. This procession was led by the Bishops of the Episcopal Conference of Nicaragua and included priests, men and women religious, and the faithful. Bishop Leovigildo, may you rest in peace.

The members of the Episcopal Conference of Nicaragua, the clergy in the Diocese of Granada, as well as the clergy from other Ecclesiastical Dioceses, together with the people of God, gathered together to pay their final respect to Bishop Leovigildo López Fitoria, who was buried in the parish of Saint James, Apostle, beneath the image of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal to whom he had a great devotion.

Bishop López Fitoria was born on June 7, 1927 in Boaco, Nicaragua. He entered the

Bishop Jorge Garcia Izasa, CM

Bishop Jorge García Izasa was born in Colombia on July 2, 1928. He did his high school studies in the Apostolic School of the Vincentian Community in Santa Rosa de Cabal and studied philosophy and theology at the Provincial House of the Congregation in Bogotá. He was ordained on February 14, 1954.

He then studied Liturgy at the Saint Anselm Pontifical Institute in Rome. He exercised his priestly ministry in the following manner: professor at the Seminary of San Gil (Santander); professor and spiritual director at the Apostolic School of the Vincentian Community in Santa Rosa de Cabal; pastor of St. Vincent de Paul parish in Medellín; assistant provincial and member of the provincial council; superior and director of the theologate in

Bogota; director of the Daughters of Charity in the Bogota Province; pastor of the parish of Jesus the Worker in Montería; pastor in Inzá, Tierradentro; spiritual director of the Major Seminary in Cochabamba (Bolivia) and rector of the Indigenous Seminary “Paez” in the Apostolic Prefecture of Tierradentro.

On May 5, 1989, John Paul II appointed him the Apostolic Prefect of Tierradentro.

Then, on February 26, 2000 the Apostolic Prefecture became an Apostolic Vicariate and Jorge García Isaza was named the first bishop of that area. He was ordained a bishop on March 26, 2000 and continued in that ministry until April 25, 2003 when he submitted his resignation to the Vatican.

He retired to Manizales to care for his mother and at the same time he provided ministerial services in the Parish of la Santísima Trinidad. In January 2009 his mother died and he returned to the community at the Apostolic School of Santa Rosa de Cabal as chaplain at the shrine of Our Lady. He was appointed superior of the community in Cali and director of the shrine of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal in October 2012.

One December 14, 2015 he suffered a heart attack and on July 29 of this year he was hospitalized in the clinic of Our Lady of the Redeemed. On August 16, 2016, he died. Let us pray for our deceased brother.

Superior General makes pilgrimage to Rue du Bac

During the past four hundred years our Vincentian spirituality and service on behalf of those persons who are poor has produced much fruit. May the deepening of our Vincentian charism make each one of us a “mystic of charity” during the XXI century.

May Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal, Saint Vincent, Saint Louise, Saint Catherine and all the saints and blessed of the Vincentian Family intercede for us.

Come to the foot of the altar where many graces will be distributed ... May the Blessed Mother fill Father Tomaž with grace so that, in accord with the expressed wish of Saint Louise de Marillac he might safeguard the identity and vitality of the Vincentian spirit in the Company of the Daughters of Charity (Constitutions #2).

Before his departure for Rome where he would begin his new mission as Superior General of the Congregation of the Mission and the Company of the Daughters of Charity, as well as Director General of various branches of the Vincentian Family, Father Tomaž Maverič made a pilgrimage to Paris where he was able to venerate the relics of our holy Founders, Saint Vincent de Paul and Saint Louise de Marillac. The Superior General placed his office and his mission under the loving care and the protection of our Lady of the Miraculous Medal.

He first visited the Motherhouse of the Congregation of the Mission. There he presided at the Sunday liturgy in the chapel of Saint Vincent de Paul. At the end of the celebration he venerated the urn which contains the relics of Saint Vincent. After sharing a meal with the confreres there was time for a dialogue during which Father Tomaž shared his surprise when during the celebration of World Youth Day in Poland it was announced that Saint Vincent had been named as the patron of all Europe. He spoke about wanting to take advantage of this opportunity to make Vincent known throughout the world.

On the following day, the feast of the Assumption, the Superior General celebrated the Eucharist with the pilgrims at the Rue du Bac. He also prayed before the relics of Saint Louise and Saint Catherine and then knelt before the image of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal where he paused for some moments of silence and contemplation.

During the following days he met with the General Council of the Daughters of Charity in the Motherhouse on the Rue du Bac. He also spent some time with the elderly members of the Congregation and of the Company of the Daughters of Charity and celebrated the Eucharist with them.

We ask God to enrich the mission of the new Superior General as he gives witness to the world of the relevancy of the Vincentian charism.

Visit of the Superior General, Father Tomaž Mavrič, to Venezuela

The Province of Venezuela had the privilege of receiving Father Tomaž Mavrič, superior general, in his first official visit. The visit was motivated by the reconfiguration of the Provinces of Colombia and Venezuela, with the latter becoming a Region of Colombia.

Father arrived in Caracas on September 15th and was received at the airport by a committee that included the Visitors of the two Provinces, the Visitatrix of the Province of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal (Bogota-Venezuela) as well as some Missionaries and Daughters of Charity from the two Provinces. During the evening of that same day Father met with Father Orlando Escobar (Visitor of Colombia) and Father Henry Kristen (Visitor of Venezuela).

The following day, after greeting the confreres at the Motherhouse, Father Mavrič participated in a meeting with the members of the Vincentian Family who gathered together from all the different regions of the country. This gathering took place at the Saint Vincent de Paul Pastoral Center. After a prayer and some words of welcome, there was a video presentation about the present situation of the Vincentian Family in Venezuela ... a member from each branch spoke briefly about their activities. Father Tomaž expressed his surprise at the many different activities of the Vincentian Family, especially in light of the present crisis that has encompassed the country. Father exhorted the members of the Family to continue to be hopeful and to give continuity to the great work that was initiated by Vincent de Paul. He reminded the participants about the importance of celebrating the 400th anniversary of the birth of the charism and encouraged the members of the Vincentian Family to engage in a common project and thus continue the work that was initiated during the Year of Vincentian Collaboration. There was time for an open dialogue with Father General and the meeting was concluded with a blessing from the successor of Saint Vincent de Paul.

In the evening the Superior General met with the Daughters of Charity of the Province of Venezuela. Sister Nubia Quintero is the Visitatrix of the Province of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal and at that meeting she was joined by the Visitors of the Congregation in Colombia and Venezuela. Father Guillén, the Visitor of Peru also participated in this meeting.

The Province of our Lady of the Miraculous Medal is the result of the reconfiguration of the Province of Bogota and Venezuela that occurred on June 18, 2013. At the present time, the province is composed of 324 Sisters with 29 houses in Bogota and 8 in Venezuela.

During the Eucharist, Father Tomaž pointed out that the Word of God presents an invitation to live with hope, to be people who are mobile and agents of transformation. His words were quite sobering especially in light of the crisis that Venezuela is confronting at the present time. He stated: Today, this hope is concretized in the people who suffer, in people who are not dead but who are hopeful. I believe that we are the first ones who should request this hope from God, thus imitating the prophets who in times of crisis believed that something better was going to occur.

With regard to mobility, the Superior General invited the Sisters to be attentive to element And to not only be concerned about physical mobility but also interior mobility. He stated: For us as Vincentians, mobility is part of our daily life. We not only move from one place to another, from one community to another, but we also experience interior movement (conversion impels us forward, reality impacts us and all of that creates mobility ... and where there is movement there is life and hope and spirit).

Finally, he exhorted the Daughters to be transformational women as a result of their relationship with Jesus and to give their best selves to Jesus ... to do this fearlessly, with joy and with all that they are. Know that you carry within yourselves a precious treasure that you are to offer to God and to the poor.

On Saturday, September 17th, three important and significant events occurred: the celebration of the Eucharist with the participation of the members of the Vincentian Family, the creation of the Region of Venezuela as a region of Colombia, and a luncheon. The celebration of the Eucharist was very festive as revealed in the joy and the unity of the people. The music and dance was very lively and colorful. In his homily Father stated: I invite you to remember these three things as essential elements of our present day identity: deepening our spiritual life, collaboration and vocational promotion. We pray that the Spirit of the Lord and of our Founders might guide us and accompany us so that the charism of Vincent de Paul might continue to be seen as relevant despite all the challenges and complexities of the present era. Let us not be robbed of this spirit, rather let us believe in it, cultivate it, and proclaim it far and wide.

Those present at the act of the creation of Venezuela as a Region of the Province of Colombia were the following: the Superior General, the Visitor of the Province of Colombia (Fr. Orlando Escobar, CM), the Visitor of Venezuela (Fr. Henry Miguel Kristen, CM), the Visitor of Peru (Fr. Pedro Guillén, CM), the members of the Interprovincial Commission, confreres from both Provinces, the Daughters of Charity and members of the Vincentian Family.

The Province of Colombia is composed of 174 missionaries:

26 ministering in the Region of Rwanda-Burundi, 38 in the Region of Venezuela, and 100 in Colombia. With new challenges and new hopes the confreres have opened themselves to this new reconfiguration of the two Provinces of the Congregation of the Mission.

On September 18, Father Tomaž Mavrič, accompanied by the three Visitors (Colombia, Venezuela and Peru), visited the Posada del Peregrino (Pilgrims Inn), a rehabilitation center that was established as a result of the conclusion of the 1984 Provincial Assembly (to embrace and serve the truly poor members of society). The Provincial Council asked two Sisters to remodel the building and to furnish it. Numerous donations as well as the support of countless volunteers made this work a reality ... a work that was inaugurated on June 14, 1987. At the beginning one floor serviced men and the other floor, women. But as a result of the high number of men who requested entrance into the program, it became necessary to designate the center as a rehabilitation center for men only.

Some 3,390 personas have been served at this institution ... 50% of whom completed the six month program and have continued their process of recovery and sobriety. About 30% have relapsed and another 20% have returned to the streets.

The center promotes the integral rehabilitation of the person: physical, psychological, spiritual, moral, family and social and attempts to do this through means of various presentations, workshops, classes, medical and psychological care, sports, spiritual care, family integration, and job training. The work has been sustained by donations from various institutions and corporations.

Due to the present social-political situation, the number of persons at the rehabilitation center has been reduced to about 15 and there are four other persons who are being given special care.

During the celebration of the Eucharist at this Center, Father Tomaž invited those present to recognize the fact that in God's eyes and in the eyes of other people, we are all poor and unworthy. Indeed, we are all in need of God's help and compassion, in need of the prayers and service of our sisters and brothers. I also invite you to place yourselves at the service of the most needy members of society, offering them your humble service ... and doing so with a new heart and a new spirit, confident of the fact that whatever you do for the poor, you do to God.

In the afternoon, Cardinal Jorge Urosa Sabino, the Archbishop of Caracas, received Father Tomaž and Father Kristen in his office and there they engaged in a cordial dialogue.

We give thanks to God for the visit of Father Tomaž Mavrič, Superior General.
