More than 1000 made pilgrimage to Sniatyn

For the 8th consecutive year, the Vincentian Family organized a pilgrimage to the tomb of the Blessed Marta Anna Wiecka in Sniatyn.

More than 1000 pilgrims came on May 27-28 to pray and ask for grace her intercession.

The number of pilgrims increases yearly not only as news of Blessed Marta Anna Wiecka and her life is spread in Ukraine and abroad but also as a result of the national pilgrimage of her relics.

The pilgrimage was organized by members of the Congregation of Mission and the Daughters of Charity of S. Vincent de Paul with blessing of the Conference of Roman Catholic Bishops and the Synod of the Greek Catholic Church in Ukraine and lasted for 2 years (2015-2017).

During the pilgrimage, the relics of the Blessed Marta Anna Wiecka visited many towns and villages in Ukraine, 475 Roman and Greek Catholic parishes from the east of Ukraine to Sniatyn. One could say "Martha visited" all those who could not for some reason come to Sniatyn to pray at her tomb. While visiting parishes and communities people prayed together for peace, unity, and mercy.

The two-year pilgrimage of the relics of Blessed Martha was a key part of the celebration of the 400th anniversary of Vincentian Charism, which started in 1617 when the heart of St. Vincent de Paul started burning with the flame of love to neighbors, when he became a "mystic of charity", a father of the poor, a father of the poorest of the world.

Guests came from all over Ukraine and other parts of the world: Italy, France, Slovakia, Slovenia, Poland, Croatia, Macedonia and other countries. Among other guests, we welcomed visitors from the General Curia of the Congregation of Mission, Superior General of the Congregation of Mission Fr. Tomaž Mavrič CM, his assistant Fr. Miles Heinen CM, and Mother General of the Daughters of Charity Sr. Kathleen Appler DC. Father Tomaž celebrated the solemn Mass on May 27. A solemn procession moved through the streets of the town from the church to the tomb. Faithful prayed together to the Blessed Marta Anna and glorified God.

May 28 the Archbishop Metropolitan of Lviv of the Roman Catholic Church Miechyslav Mokshytsky Presided over the Eucharist. Bishop of Mukachevo Greek-Catholic Eparchy Milan Shashik, CM and coordinator of Vincentian Family at the world Fr. Joe Agostino CM concelebrated with him.

Representatives of Vincentian Family branches (there are 10 of them in Ukraine) meet for breakfast with Fr. Joe Agostino CM. They talked about ways they serve people in need, actual problems, and cooperation in our common cause of promotion of Vincentian Charism. Father Joe promised to come to Ukraine again to have more time to work together.

At the end Superior of Vice Province Fr. Yan Trzop CM thanked all the guests, organizers and all people of good will who helped to organize the celebration, all those who prayed all the time for the pilgrims and organizers. We are grateful to Parish priests who hosted a group of pilgrims during all-Ukrainian pilgrimage of the relics of the Blessed Marta Anna Wiecka. We are grateful also to Christian "Radio Maria", staff and volunteers who helped to cover the event, inform the audience on the pilgrimage, and broadcast liturgies of pilgrimage in Sniatyn.

Annual Meeting Of Coviam

The origin of most Provinces, Vice-Provinces, Regions and missions of COVIAM is in Europe. It is understandable, therefore, that COVIAM experiences the same linguistic difficulty as that of CEVIM. In fact four languages are used by COVIAM: French, English, Spanish and Portuguese. But only English & French are the official ones.

Linguistic diversity constituted the most immediate manifestation of differences among the COVIAM members though concealing a whole lot of other differences like diversity in mindset, lifestyle, cultural practices and even systems of thoughts. As a result in the first decade of its existence (1994-2004), COVIAM really struggled to achieve the necessary consensus to focus on common ideas or common projects. It was obvious that cultural and linguistic differences were posing a challenge to the principles of regional cooperation. However years of persistent efforts enabled the members to transcend the challenges posed and embrace a coherent vision of cultural diversity which, far from being a threat or challenge, was seen as an opportunity opening the way for initiating regional common programs.

One of the biggest hurdles for the realization of its dreams is economic instability. In the past COVIAM was criticized mainly due to its lack of efficient organization, strategic planning, lack of foresight and innovative common programs beneficial to the confreres in the region. When one goes deeper into the reality of the situations one realizes that these criticisms are unjustified. We can have well-articulated and innovative strategic planning only if we have the assurance of two fundamental elements in place: personnel and finance. The COVIAM members were lacking for the most part the economic assurance needed for making a good strategic planning. When you are left with empty hands and bare feet, you cannot do much of planning to realize your dreams.

The reality is that none of the member Provinces, vice-Provinces, Regions and Missions under COVIAM is economically self-sufficient. The infrastructure, the lifestyle, the transportation means, the cost of living and the level of comfort in the provinces vary according to the possibilities and financial capabilities of their mother provinces. Some economically powerful provinces have been able to invest millions of dollars to create giant structures. Of course, now, to maintain the huge structures substantial amount of financial resources have to be found. The capability of generating income internally from within the province or region is seen only in one or two instances.

A change in the perception of our lifestyle is perhaps the need of the hour. We need to adopt a sober lifestyle which respects the lives of the African people with whom we live and for whom we work. The house we live in, the food we take, the dress we wear and the vehicle we use; all seem to suggest that we are more identified with the elite in the society rather than the common man. We live in the well-furnished four storied building to look down on the huts where the common man live.

Although the African continent is blessed with lots of valuable natural resources, its inhabitants are mostly mired in poverty. That a continent's abundant natural resources can have so little effect on its people's quality of life over so many years appears strange; but that is the sad reality of African continent. The COVIAM reflects this reality. In most of our communities in Africa we are blessed to have vast areas of fertile land and streams flowing through the land. Yet we have not learned to manage the soil and land to achieve some direct benefit. We don't even produce things for our own consumption. It is not that we have not discovered the fact that good land management returns a financial and emotional reward. Though we know it, we just do not venture into the productive use of our available land.

It is true that in the past some formators misled the Africans saying, "Money is not a problem!" As if there were inexhaustible sources of money! At that time we the Africans did not manifest our intelligence to react to this form of slavery, perhaps for our young age. However, thanks to God, in recent times there is a greater awareness and as a result a new mentality is developing within COVIAM: "the strategy of small steps". This new mentality speaks about our conviction and determination to walk according to the size of our legs. If it was not for the emergence of this new mentality, it would not have been possible to begin the regional common formation program in Enugu, Nigeria. It began with the sole contribution of the COVIAM members. Certainly this change in mindset and consequent determination to take small steps are not without challenges because some have expressed concerns and anxiety regarding its practicality. However, COVIAM is determined to take small steps to accomplish her noble dreams.

This new vision of things helps us to carry out the projects at different phases. For example, in places where education is an absolute priority, African wisdom says: do not expect to build a four-story building to start education, rather to start under a large tree or under a curtain with available local resources. In the second phase initiate activities to ensure its continuity. There was a conviction in the effectiveness of this method behind the beginning of common formation project in Enugu, Nigeria, in the year 2015. We are aware of the criticisms out there regarding its beginning and future success. COVIAM is convinced that the common formation program in Enugu can lead to greater interprovincial collaboration in Africa in particular and in the Congregation in general.

I would like to conclude by saying that the annual assembly of COVIAM in Chad has taken place in a very fraternal climate, though the weather conditions were not very pleasant; having temperature from 40 to 44 degree Celsius throughout. Moundou, Chad, was chosen as the place of annual meeting because Chad's mission is looked after by COVIAM in collaboration with the General Curia. On May 6, 2017, members of COVIAM were expected to visit Bebalem, the mission started in the year 2011. Unfortunately, the heavy rain and thunderstorm that day made it impossible to travel through the mud road to reach the place. We made an attempt but had to return from half way. Obviously the confreres, FdC and the faithful of Bebalem who were eagerly waiting for us were very much disappointed. We were sorry we could not visit our first mission. We simply cannot help certain situations. Certain situations are beyond our control. We are greatly thankful for all the rich experiences.

The Province of Slovakia held their triennial Provincial Assembly

The Province of Slovakia held their triennial Provincial Assembly in Bratislava at the provincial house with the Confreres arriving to begin at 15:00 on Wednesday May 10, 2017. All 35 confreres with active voice were present. The liturgy of the hours, meditation, Eucharist and the Divine Mercy Chaplet were appropriately celebrated during these 4 days.

This assembly was a change in method for the Province in Slovakia in that the assembly focused very heavily on formation. The topics presented addressed the psychological, spiritual and community dynamics that are involved in faithfully living the vows. The speakers were Mons. Marek Forgáč, auxiliary bishop of Košice, Fr. Miles Heinen, CM, Assistant General of Congregation of the Mission and Fr. Štefan Boržík, PhD. The movement of this treatment of the vows culminated in a pilgrimage by bus to the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Seven Sorrows in Saštín-Stráže where the Archbishop of Travana, Msgr. Jána Orosch, joined us. At the end of the Eucharist the province re-consecrated itself, imploring Mary's help, to follow Jesus Christ evangelizing the poor. The evening ended in a wonderful banquet at which Fr. Jaroslav's 50th birthday was noted.

Interspersed through Thursday and Friday were presentations of the life and works of the houses. There was also a two-hour presentation by the Provincial giving a state of the Province overview with a call to renewal individually, collectively and in ministry focus, particularly through collaboration.

On Saturday, the last day of the Assembly, in the morning elections of the Visitor and four provincial Councilors were held. The results are awaiting confirmation of the Superior General and the General Council.

Golden Jubilee Celebration of the Priestly Ordination of Two Youngest Dutch Confreres loving stays young. The celebration of the 50th ordination anniversary of Frs. Harre and Chris has shown that youth is a matter of heart and spirit. They keep their mind always young.

Harrie and Chris were very much excited during the beautiful Golden Jubilee celebration attended by their family members, friends, Daughters of Charity, CM Confreres and myself, representing the Curia. I could notice the tears of joy and gratitude flowing from their eyes. They are in the late seventies but their heart and mind seem to be that of seventeen years old. Yes, Harrie and Chris don't seem to be tired of loving Jesus; they don't seem to be tired of loving the Church and the Congregation of the Mission; above all, they don't seem to be tired of loving and serving the poor, their Lords and Masters. Good for them. May their passion for serving the poor be a model for others who are becoming old in their youth. May the Good Lord bless their priestly and missionary lives. May they remain always blessed!

It may seem a bit strange but it is true that the two confreres who celebrated their golden jubilee of their priestly ordination on 14 May 2017 in Panningen, Holland, are the youngest in the former Dutch Province. Indeed, Harrie JASPERS & Chris JANSSEN, belong to the last but one batch ordained priests in the year 1967. The last batch was ordained priests in 1968 and they were three. Unfortunately all the three in the last batch left the priesthood. Thus Harrie Jaspers and Chris Janssen became the Benjamins in the former Dutch Province.

Age is an issue of the mind and important thing in life is to keep the mind young. Anyone who stops loving is old whether at eighteen or eighty. Anyone who keeps

Both Harrie and Chris have large families with a number of brothers, sisters, nephews and nieces. All of them were present for the celebration and their presences added beauty to the celebration. It is unusual in Holand, in the present age, to have large families. I wish both Harrie and Chris the very best in the world.

III Meeting of Vincentian Vocational Mentors

From the 26th to the 29th of May, in the city of Ibagué-Tolima, the III Annual Meeting of Vocational Mentors took place. In this meeting about 70 persons participated including Seminarians and Priests of the Congregation of the Mission, Daughters of Charity of the Provinces of La Milagrosa Bogota-Venezuela and San Vicente de Paúl Cali; also present for the first time were laity who make up the CLAVOVI (Community of Laity who foster Vincentian Vocations).

The text which formed the theme of this meeting was: "Go to the highways and those you encounter, invite them..." (Mt. 22,9), and the objective was: "To solidify and to live our Vincentian vocation in the context of the 400 years of the Charism by means of formation, being conscious of the necessity to attract others so that the Person of Jesus Christ is known and loved in a way that the baptized discover their mission in the Church.” This objective was implemented by means of four activities that responded to the specific objectives.

1. The road traveled since the last two meetings was reviewed to discover the successes and failures in our role of fostering vocations. Those who participated in the three meetings realized the richness of this work in the fruits they are beginning to be harvested, among them, the apostolate of fostering vocations which the laity are now developing.

2. A talk was shared whose objective was to reanimate our option for Jesus Christ in the light of the Vincentian Charism during the Celebration of the 400 years of this Charism in order to continue the awakening of our identity.

3. In order to reinforce in those we serve the love of the Vincentian vocation from the point of view of spiritual life, formation and contact with the poor, searching to attract new vocations by our testimony, a reflection talk was given that reached to the heart of the participants and motivated reflection about vocation and choice of life goals, recognizing the moments of strength and weakness in the following of Christ.

4. A number of tools were presented that facilitate the understanding of how to accompany people of today in their search for meaning in their life. The working document for the synod of bishops to be held in 2018, “the youth, the faith and the discernment” was a key tool presented in this moment, apart from the tools developed in different provinces to accompany the vocational search.

The meeting was a deep spiritual experience thanks to the prayer meetings, the Celebrations of the Eucharist and the half-day Spiritual Retreat that was a new element for this meeting and was well received by the participants. With the morning Mass of sending forth on Monday the 29th of May, this third meeting ended, leaving all motivated to live out the commitments taken to live their ministry of fostering vocations.

The Collaboration of the VSO with the Province of Ecuador

The province of Ecuador numbers 30 confreres, two of whom have recently died of illness. Nine men are in formation of which, one will be ordained deacon in the summer. The V.S.O. has collaborated with the Province of Ecuador over the past several years in projects that have helped restore aging infrastructure of the Vincentian seminary in Quito or build for new pastoral needs. Fr. Guido Molina, C.M., the acting provincial, served as my host. He was most attentive in showing me the present projects that the V.S.O. is helping to fund with help from our funding partners. The confreres were very proud of the work that has been done at our works in Quito. For example, the seminary rector, Fr. Juan Roberto Quiñones, showed me the painting of the interior and exterior of the seminary, the rebuilt terrace, the sun panels that heat the water, and the new lighting in the seminary chapel.

The other project of interest is the construction of the Centro Vicenciano de Formación. It stands adjacent to the seminary, and is used by the parish of Medalla Milagrosa, located in the area of Pio Doce in Quito. The construction of the formation center was begun under the former pastor Fr. Marco Bayas, C.M. He continues as the confrere responsible for the project. With the aid of our funding partners, the VSO helped to finance the $125,500.00 USD addition of the second floor to the Centro Vicenciano de Formación. The parishioners worked very hard to contribute $48,000.00 USD of local funds. This was no small task, given that they had recently completed a capital campaign to remodel the parish church at a cost of $130,000.00 USD.

The Centro Vicenciano de Formación serves many groups: 400 children in catechesis, a large charismatic group, Legion of Mary, St. Vincent de Paul Society, the Association of the Miraculous Medal, and the Vincentian Marian Youth. The construction project is near its final phase with an expected completion date of June 15, 2017. However, the third floor stands in a crude state with just its interior supports and the exterior walls. The newly completed roof protects the building from the elements, especially, the abundant rain. The V.S.O. expects to collaborate as well in the completion of the third floor. Once fully completed, the project will boast an extra 9 spacious meeting rooms, in addition to the current first floor offices and meeting room.

On Wednesday, May 10th, our confreres, seminarians, and parishioners dedicated the nearly completed new second floor of the Centro Vicenciano de Formación. The leaders of the parish groups were well represented at the Mass of Thanksgiving and Dedication. Our seminarians, dressed in crisp albs, served as acolytes. Fr. Julio Palacios, C.M., the pastor, invited me to preside at the Mass. Fr. Marco Bayas, C.M. preached. He acknowledged the dedication of the parishioners and God's providential guidance over the project. He spoke of the difficulties, such as, the legal issues of the parish grounds, the impact of the earthquake of 2016, and the effects of the recent rains. He stated that the work represented God's care for the Vincentian pastoral work at the parish. At the end of his homily, Fr. Marco called forward some of leaders. He acknowledged the work of the V.S.O. in the success of the project, thanking by name, the staff of the V.S.O., namely, Fr. Miles Heinen, C.M. as the former executive director, Scott Fina, Ph.D. and María José Pacheco. Then Fr. Marco handed the V.S.O. a large plaque as a recognition of its valuable role in the project.

At the end of the Mass, but prior to the final blessing, Fr. Julio Palacios, C.M. carried in procession the Blessed Sacrament to the completed second floor of the center. The priest concelebrants and people followed and gathered in a circle for the blessing of the space. The mood was joyful as the holy water sprinkled over the building and faithful. But there was more. The project was running short on funds of $12,500.00 USD. Earlier in the day, Scott Fina assured me in an email that the V.S.O. would cover the shortfall in the funding. I thought what better time than now to make the announcement of the promised help. The people reacted to the news with immediate applause and gratitude.

In closing, the success of the projects in Ecuador extends beyond the staff of the V.S.O. It belongs to Fr. Tomaž Marvič, C.M., Superior General, our provinces, confreres, benefactors, and funding partners around the world. The joy of our confreres and the people represents the presence of the Holy Spirit-the confirmation of God's work. Your support of the V.S.O. continues to make a difference.

Second Encounter for the members of the Vincentian Family - CIF

The Vincentian International Formation Center held its Second Encounter for the members of the Vincentian Family. This session took place from April 25th to May 24th, 2017 in Paris. The participants came from various countries and many different branches of the Vincentian Family were represented ... a list of the participants follows: Congregation of the Mission: José Valdo Dos Santos Filho

(Brazil); Jesús Palau Banús (Spain, but ministering in Honduras); Mario Villar (Chile); Amime Weldeghebriel Andu (Eritrea); Benson Odhiambo (Kenya); Benito Walther Crespo Cayo (Perú); Sisters of Charity, New York: Margaret Dennehy (USA); Sisters of Saint Vincent de Paul, Gijzagem: María Sonia Fernandes (Brazil); Sisters of Charity, Leavenworth: Margaret Finch, Margaret Ellen Johnson and Jerelyn Mary Condon (all from the United States); Sisters of Mary of the Miraculous Medal, Croatia: Danica Grgić; Sisters of Mary of the Miraculous Medal, Benin: Julienne Agossa and Solange Sezone (both from Benin); Servants of the Redeeming Love of Christ: Annick Sounouvou (Benin); Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, Suwon: Jung Sooin (South Korea); Sisters of Charity, Seton Hill: Yeon J. Choi (South Korea); Brothers of our Lady, Mother of Mercy (CMM): Andrea Sifuna Barasa (Kenya); AIC: Clara Inés Díaz Henao and Sixta Tulia (both from Colombia); Linda Morrison (teacher in various Vincentian schools) ... a very varied group. During this session the multi-cultural and international dimensions of the Vincentian Family were clearly revealed. At the same time it became very obvious why we no longer use the

phrase “double family” since it does not express the true Vincentian heritage. On a personal level I was very pleased with this group that showed a great interest in deepening their prayer life and a concern for on-going collaboration (this group also enjoyed singing together and even though people spoke many different languages, there was a certain harmony in their music).

During the session people came to know one another on a deeper level and that is most important since on many levels we really do not know what the various branches are doing ... indeed we have so much to learn about our Family

The various presentations dealt with the origins of our charism as well as deepening our understanding of the life and doctrine of Vincent de Paul and Louise de Marillac. We were not, however, simply focused on the past but were continually challenged to live and recreate our charism so that we might respond in an effective manner to the present-day situation. For this reason we spent time discussing the importance of a systemic change approach in our various ministries. There were also three pilgrimages which revealed the richness of the Vincentian charism and reinforced the reality that life itself is a pilgrimage. Special focus was given to Folleville-Gannes and Chatillon.

I give thanks to God for this session and am convinced that we ought to continue this process. We would like to see the participation of more branches of the Family and more participants from the various lay associations.

The Reliquary of the Heart of Saint Vincent was venerated for two day

Many Sisters spoke about the joy that they experienced during those days. One of them wrote: "What moved me most was the faith of the pilgrims who came in large numbers and bowed with respect before the reliquary. It was also moving to watch the children who, at the suggestion of their spiritual advisor, entrusted their prayer to St. Vincent. For my part, I thank God for the time during which we were able to venerate the heart of St. Vincent. May God fill our hearts with the spirit of our Founders.

During those extraordinary days, each one of us experienced joy and gratitude. We very much enjoyed the photographs and the presentation of Sister Stanislaw. After her presentation Sister placed the reliquary in our chapel where we were able to pray calmly and reverently.

A Daughter of Charity

We are also deeply impressed by the image of Vincent that was placed at the entrance of our chapel. Our Founder has become present among us at a time when he is on pilgrimage throughout all of France. We have offered many prayers, including our prayers for an increase of his spirit in the whole Vincentian Family, prayers for vocations to the Family, prayers for the poor ...

On Saturday, May 6th another great favor was granted to us. The relic of Vincent's heart was brought into the presence of Sister Francisca Valckaert who was dying. That was a powerful experience for our Sister as well as for Francisca's sister, Edith. A few hours later, Sister died in peace and went forward to her encounter with the Lord.
